Schools

You will receive maps over the location of the schools at the seminar.

S-B-A Schulisches Brückenangebot Zug – S-B-A Vocational School

Ziegelmatweg 1, 6300 Zug, 5 minutes' walk on foot from the University

The S-B-A is a vocational school and a vocational preparation school. It is a school which trains the core values and the professional competence of young adults. It is an optional 10th school year which aims at the preparation for a successful introduction to the vocational education.

Primarschule Kirchmatt – Primary School Kirchmatt in Zug

Kirchmattstrasse 7, 6300 Zug, just across the road of the University

The primary school Kirchmatt is a modern elementary school with a broad offering. It has classes from 1st to 6th grade and includes the integrative school form ISF, lunch and free time supervision, tutoring by teachers, free time offering: meeting for children, social case work, etc. The primary school Kirchmatt holds around 220 pupils and 30 teachers and remedial teachers as well as a social worker. The school's programme pays special attention to the strengths of each child and furthermore it focuses on cooperative learning.

Tagesschule der Stadtschulen Zug – All-day Primary School in Zug

Klosterstrasse 4, 6300 Zug, near the University

This school is a public all-day school, and belongs to the urban schools Zug, attended by 72 pupils in 3 „double classes“ (grade 1 and 2 – grade 3 and 4, and grade 5 and 6.). Two teachers are in charge of one of these „double classes“ in terms of classroom teaching and mentoring.

Kantonsschule Zug – High School of the Canton of Zug (Gymnasium)

Lüssiweg 24, 6300 Zug, approx. 15-20 minutes' walk on foot from the University

The High School of the Canton of Zug is a large and modern school in the centre of Zug with 1620 students, 84 classes and 217 teachers. If a student chooses Gymnasium immediately after primary school (at about the age of 13), she or he would attend this school for six years. The Gymnasium leads to the so called federal graduation diploma (“Eidgenössische Matura”) which is recognized by all universities in Switzerland and most universities abroad.

GIBZ Gewerblich-industrielles Bildungszentrum Zug – Vocational School in Zug – GIBZ

Baarerstrasse 100, 6302 Zug, approx. 15-20 minutes' walk on foot from the University

Vocational education combined with training in the industry allows young adults to make the transition into the working environment and ensures that there will be enough qualified staff in the future. Depending on the profession, basic vocational education and training takes two to four years. It leads to a basic or advanced federal certificate, which provides the necessary qualifications for practicing a specific profession. In a modern building, the training facilities, the service center as well as the educational center, procure and support sustainably professional and individual skills.

Oberstufenschule Kollegium St. Michael

Zugerbergstrasse 3, 6300 Zug (Next to PH Zug)

The “Kollegium St. Michael” is a private non-profit school with classes from 5th to 9th grade, focussing on secondary school with grades 7th to 9th. It is an all-day school, which also offers boarding during the week, but is closed on weekends. It holds ca. 130 pupils. Working and living together is based on humanistic-christian principles. The program aims at fostering each child’s abilities to learn and helping it on the way to high achievements. Additional information: Presentation and discussion in English, classes mostly in German.
